NEW EQUITATION FIELD FOR FORT

Fort Benjamin Harrison Improvement Will Be Ready for Spring Events.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—An equitation field, which will be complete and modern in every detail and will include a regulation sized polo field, will be laid out and leveled off for use next spring at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The equitation field will be one of the finest in this part of the country when completed, according to plans of Brigadier-General Dwight E. Aultman, commander of Fort Harrison and of the 16th infantry brigade.

The field will be just east of the main road, which leads into the fort from the Pendleton Pike. A section of the post dining hall lies to the west of the road at the entrance to the army reservation of 3,000 acres. The field will serve as a more appropriate entrance to the army post. It consists of about 20 acres of level ground extending from the quarter master depot south to the traction and railroad tracks at Spring Valley and from the main fort road east to a woods near the east line of the reservation.

The new polo field will be 900x450 feet in dimensions. Brigadier-General Aultman plans to make the field one of the finest in the country. It will replace the present field which is on the post parade ground, and will be a better polo ground, Gen. Aultman said. Work of leveling and sodding the ground will begin immediately. Gen. Aultman said he did not wish to destroy the beautiful parade ground at the post by permitting the polo teams to practice and play on the present field next year.

In addition to the new polo ground the post will have a general equitation field equipped with jumps and mounds which will make the field suitable for many of the leading riding events of the country. Fourteen jumps, all different, which are to be selected from types used in the American and foreign armies, will be set up on the field west of the polo ground.

Captain Coulter in Charge

Capt. H. K. Coulter, of the 11th infantry regiment, will have charge of the construction of the field and the planning of a three and one-half mile cross-country riding track on the reservation. Capt. Coulter announced that work had been started in designing the jumps which will include all types from mounds to mounds. It is probable that in the plans for the improvement of the field at the entrance to the post, a new football field and baseball diamond will be included. Capt. Coulter said he is working on plans for the erection of grandstands and bleachers at points on the field where athletic and riding events will be staged. Gen. Aultman, who is a lover of horses and a riding enthusiast, desires to hold steeplechases and other popular riding classics on the cross-country riding course which is being mapped out. Gen. Aultman conceived the idea of utilizing the large field at the entrance to the reservation as a general equitation field and he is greatly interested in the advancement of his plans.

OFFERS BATTLE CREEK SITE FOR ARBORETUM

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 8.—The city commission and the board of education were notified Tuesday that Mrs. Lella Y. Post Montgomery, widow of the late C. W. Post and wife of L. J. Montgomery, of this city, stands ready to give the old country club grounds on West Main street to the community, for an arboretum. The offer comes in response to a suggestion by Mrs. Montgomery by Frederick E. M. Brigham, curator of the public school museum.

Simultaneous with this offer comes one from Mrs. A. C. Kingman to erect the first public building on the new site, a museum to house the valuable now in charge of Brigham, at what was formerly the school of applied arts. Mrs. Kingman wished to erect a memorial to her husband, formerly Senator A. C. Kingman, and is glad to join the Montgomery project.

The Montgomery land totals 72 acres and the plan is to make it all a park, with a sample of every tree that can live through a Michigan winter, and to place on sites now occupied by an archaeological building, a temple of music and a public auditorium. The museum would be erected at once.

The only "string" on the Montgomery project is that the city pay $5,000 a year for five years on improving the acreage. The donor does not even ask the privilege of naming the place, but Mr. Brigham suggests it be called the Lella Arboretum.

The city commission and board of education will take immediate action on Mrs. Montgomery's and Mrs. Kingman's offers, it is intimated.

Man Seeks River Death; Dives to Street Paving

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Apparently mistaking the pavement for the Detroit river, Victor Pasolowski, of Chicago, raced along the foot of Baker st. Tuesday morning and with a wild yell, dived headlong to the pavement. His skull was fractured and both arms were broken and at Receiving hospital little hope is held out for his recovery.

Pasolowski, who is 23 years old, is believed to have been demented. Pedestrians at the foot of Baker st. heard him yell and looking saw him make the dive.

Pasolowski, still conscious, told the first to reach his side that he wanted to die, police reported.

In his pockets they found railroad tickets from Detroit to Toronto.

HEARING ON RATES TO BE HELD TODAY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—A hearing in the southeastern rate case to determine the feasibility of the carriers' proposition to lower rates from Indiana into southeastern territory that they might be on an equitable basis with rates from New York and other adjacent Atlantic seaboard points to the same territory, is to be held before the interstate commerce commission examiner in Cincinnati, Nov. 9. H. B. McNelly, traffic commissioner of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, R. B. Coapstick, traffic manager of the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce and other traffic managers of privately owned business concerns interested in the case will attend the meeting.

The adjustment plan contemplated a 15 percent reduction on all commodities from the Indiana territory and points west as far as the Mississippi river to the southeastern section. This would bring about an increase of about 10 percent in the rates from New York and other adjacent Atlantic seaboard points. The eastern shippers represent the interveners in the case.

Efforts to have set aside freight increases of $5 to 18 a car on petroleum and allied products shipped from Tulsa, Okla., and other southwestern points to Indiana will be made by consumers throughout the state at a hearing before Paul O. Carter, interstate commerce commissioner in Chicago, Nov. 20. The case was instituted by the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce.

GIRL TEACHER UPHOLD IN PROBE OF SUICIDE

MARCELLUS, Mich., Nov. 8.—Coroner Joel Nash, of Marcellus, has made known that at the inquest into the suicide of Mrs. Pearl Nelson, Thursday, he intends to probe thoroughly the story that the woman's death resulted from the intrusion of Miss Eva Ditzel, instructor of mathematics, at the Marcellus high school.
